

Certificate of Collaboration

This certificate is proudly presented to

British American University (BAU)

In recognition of the successful collaboration with the Euroasian Educational Research Council (EERC) in advancing educational research, development, and innovation on an international scale. This partnership is established to promote shared goals in fostering educational excellence, enhancing global learning experiences, and driving impactful research for the benefit of the academic community and society at large.

Through this collaboration, both institutions commit to working together on initiatives that include, but are not limited to:

Joint educational research projects.

Cross-border academic exchange programs.

Development of innovative educational tools and practices.

Participation in international conferences, seminars, and workshops.

Shared insights and resources aimed at improving educational standards globally.

The Euroasian Educational Research Council (EERC) extends its heartfelt gratitude to British American University (BAU) for their dedication and shared vision. Together, we strive to make a significant contribution to the global education landscape, paving the way for future generations of learners and educators.

This certificate formalizes our partnership and affirms our mutual commitment to achieving excellence in education through collaboration.

Date of Issue: 11 October, 2024

Authority Signature

Euroasian Educational Research Council (EERC)

